High Court Initiatives

Delhi: Expansion and Training of eSakshya Platform Across Tis Hazari District Court

The eSakshya application has now been extended to all courts with criminal jurisdiction across Delhi, marking a significant step toward digitizing judicial processes. This advanced platform enables courts to seamlessly access crime scene videos and photographs captured by the Delhi Police, enhancing the efficiency and reliability of evidence presentation. Following its establishment, a comprehensive training programme titled "Know-how eSakshya" was conducted on 22nd July 2025 for all DSA/SA personnel posted in the Computer Branches of Delhi District Courts. The initiative aims to equip staff with the necessary skills to operate the platform effectively. Built on the framework of the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023, eSakshya is designed to streamline the recording, management, and sharing of digital evidence. It supports the implementation of new criminal laws and ensures uniformity and transparency in handling electronic evidence across the district.

Strengthening Digital Evidence Management: "Know-how eSakshya" Training for technical staff of Rohini District Court

Following the establishment of the eSakshya platform, a specialized training program titled "Know-how eSakshya" was conducted for all DSA/SA personnel posted in the Computer Branches of Rohini district Court. This initiative aims to ensure seamless adoption and effective utilization of the platform. eSakshya is a cutting-edge digital solution designed to document and manage processes related to the implementation of new criminal laws across India. Anchored in the provisions of the Bharatiya Sakshya Adhiniyam, 2023, the platform leverages advanced technology to simplify the collection, organization, and sharing of digital evidence—enhancing transparency and efficiency in judicial proceedings.

eOffice Training Sessions at High Court of Meghalaya

In a significant move toward enhancing digital efficiency within the judiciary, two online training sessions on eOffice implementation were successfully conducted for the High Court of Meghalaya.

The first session, organized by RAILTEL, took place from July 22 to July 23, 2025, and was attended by all eOffice users, Master Trainers, and PIMS Administrators of the High Court. This foundational training focused on familiarizing participants with the core functionalities of the eOffice platform.

A follow-up session was held on July 25, 2025, jointly conducted by RAILTEL and the NIC eOffice Division, New Delhi. This advanced training was tailored specifically for PIMS Administrators and Master Trainers, aiming to deepen their understanding and operational capabilities within the eOffice ecosystem.

These sessions mark a pivotal step in the High Court's journey toward a paperless, streamlined, and digitally empowered judicial administration.

Rajasthan High Court Develops District Courts Infrastructure Information And Management System (DCIIMS)

In a major stride toward judicial modernization, the Technical Team of the Rajasthan High Court has developed a specialized computer program—District Court Infrastructure Information and Management System (DCIIMS). This initiative is a key component of the national eCourts Mission Mode Project, aimed at transforming the judiciary through digital innovation. DCIIMS is designed to establish a structured and standardized framework for collecting, validating, and digitizing detailed data related to the physical infrastructure, facilities, utilities, and operational capacity of all district court buildings and judicial residences across Rajasthan. Functioning as a centralized digital platform, DCIIMS enables efficient management and real-time monitoring of court infrastructure across the region. The data captured through this system will play a crucial role in guiding infrastructure planning, modernization efforts, and policy-making—ensuring that judicial facilities are equipped to meet evolving needs with transparency and precision.

This initiative represents a transformative step toward building a more agile, data-driven, and future-ready judicial infrastructure.

Rajasthan High Court Introduces DCSIR for Smarter Judicial Data Reporting

In a progressive move toward data-driven judicial administration, the Technical Team of the Rajasthan High Court has developed a specialized computer program—District Courts Statistical Information and Reporting (DCSIR). This innovative system is designed to streamline the reporting of key judicial workflow metrics across district courts.

At the core of DCSIR lies the PIDB System, a modular reporting application that generates detailed reports based on four critical indicators: Pendency, Institution, Disposal, and Balance (PIDB). By offering a centralized platform for aggregating, filtering, and presenting case-related data, the system ensures high levels of flexibility, accuracy, and efficiency. One of the major advantages of DCSIR is its ability to minimize repetitive data requests by leveraging information already available in the Case Information System (CIS) database. This not only reduces administrative burden but also enhances the speed and consistency of judicial data reporting.

The launch of DCSIR marks another milestone in Rajasthan's commitment to modernizing court operations through technology.

Implementation of Online RTI portal by Madras High Court

In a major step toward strengthening transparency and citizen engagement, the Madras High Court has launched a dedicated Right to Information (RTI) Portal for both the High Court and the District Judiciary. Officially rolled out on 24th July 2025, the portal is accessible at https://mhc.tn.gov.in/eservices/rti.

This user-friendly platform empowers citizens to file online applications under the RTI Act, 2005, with clear guidelines and a comprehensive user manual available to assist applicants through the process. Designed with accessibility in mind, the portal supports both English and Tamil, ensuring wider reach across diverse user groups.

A key feature of the portal is its intelligent sorting mechanism, which prioritizes applications that involve matters concerning the life or liberty of a person. Applicants can also track the status of their requests and appeals in real time, fostering greater transparency and accountability in judicial governance.

To streamline the process further, the portal integrates secure online payment gateways for RTI fees, making the entire experience seamless and efficient.

This initiative marks a significant advancement in digital public service delivery by the judiciary.

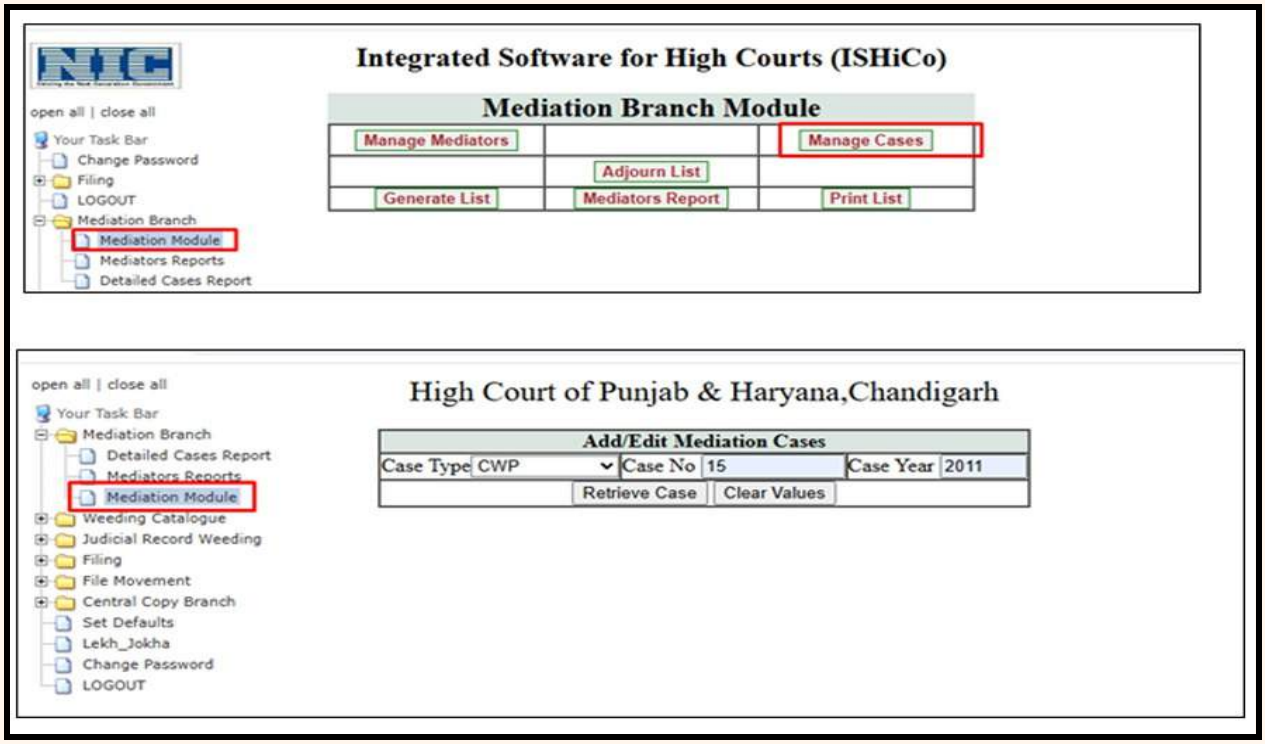
Mediation for the Nation: Drive Launched in Punjab and Haryana High Court

Under the direction of the Hon'ble Supreme Court of India, a special initiative called "Mediation for the Nation" was launched on July 8, 2025. Nearly 50,000 pending cases were initially listed, and approximately 11,000 have since been received by the Mediation Centre for settlement. These cases are being heard before dedicated Mediation Benches, and the court's existing listing process has been updated to support this drive. The details of these changes are as follows:

Updation of module for Mediation branch:



The Mediation branch module was also updated for receiving the cases from the Courts, entering the proceedings, settlement of cases and also returning the cases back to the Courts.
