

MENTAL HEALTH PROGRAMME

(State Government of Maharashtra)

- Date : 22-09-2025

Introduction-

The World Health Organization defines Mental Health as an integral part of health; indeed, there is no health without mental health and determined by a range of socio-economic, biological, and environmental factors and not just the mere absence of Mental Disorder.

Mental disorder is characterized by a clinically significant disturbance in an individual's cognition, emotional regulation, or behavior. It is usually associated with distress or impairment in important areas of functioning. There are many different types of mental disorders.

Mental disorders may also be referred to as mental health conditions. The latter is a broader term covering mental disorders, psychosocial disabilities, and (other) mental states associated with significant distress, impairment in functioning, or risk of self-harm. Due to changing environments, competitive life, outbreaks of epidemics, uncertainty of survival, etc., stress, depression, anxiety, and tension increase in society, leading to the development of mental disorders in many.
