FOREWORD

Cantonments are unique institutions established for quartering and training of troops. Over a period of time, civilians also came to reside in cantonments. Cantonment Boards are urban local bodies, incorporated under the Cantonments Act, 2006 (earlier the Cantonments Act, 1924), to administer cantonments in India. There are 62 Cantonments Boards in the country. These Boards are responsible for providing municipal services to residents of these cantonments.

2. Annual administration reports for 2015-16 of these Boards are furnished under section 50 of the Cantonments Act, 2006. These are compiled and published by the Directorate General of Defence Estates.

3. Cantonment Boards are mandated to undertake not only municipal functions, but also developmental activities. For undertaking all these activities substantial fund is required. However, the scope for augmentation of internal resources is limited in cantonments due to restrictions on usage of land and buildings. A majority of the buildings situated in cantonments belong to the Government on which no tax can be levied. Further, even the statutory demand of service charges levied on Government properties is also not met in full. Arrears on account of service charges on Government properties amount to more than Rs. 12,000 crore. State Governments also do not share their net revenue proceeds with Cantonment Boards (Only Delhi and Secunderabad Cantonment Board get funds from respective State Governments) So it is a challenging task to meet the expectations of the people with limited funds.

4. Ministry of Defence sanctions ordinary grant-in-aid to deficit Cantonment Boards to balance their budgets; the Boards also get special grant-in-aid for specific projects. During 2015-16, ordinary grant-in-aid of Rs. 258.75 crore was given to 49 Cantonment Boards to meet their budgetary deficit. Further, grants for creation of capital assets of Rs. 19.73 crore were given to 4 Cantonment Boards for undertaking various infrastructural projects (School/Sewage Treatment Plants/Electricity/Water supply). The Boards continue to make their efforts to obtain funds to implement Centrally Sponsored Schemes, share of net revenue proceeds of State Governments and MPs/MLAs Local Area Development Fund etc.

5. The Cantonments are proposed to be developed in the lines of smart cities and therefore, it is for consideration if the Cantonment Boards can be considered as a special category Union Territory/ State so that central funds can flow to these Cantonment Boards.

6. Despite financial constraints, cantonments continue to remain lung spaces in cities with efficient services and better maintenance. Cantonment Boards maintain 88 hospitals and dispensaries. The facilities provided include labour rooms, minor surgery OTs, diagnostic services, X-Ray, ambulances etc. Specialized services by way of opening a dialysis unit and a Neo-Natal intensive care unit (NICU) at Kirkee and Pune Cantonment General Hospitals respectively have been introduced with funds given by philanthropists. The Boards also maintain 202 schools having about 57000 students. Separate toilets are provided for girls and boys in all co-educational schools. The facilities provided include computer education, scholarships, free books and uniforms, sports and cultural meets etc. The Boards have established 46 skill development centres which have benefited more than 32000 persons by imparting training in tailoring, embroidery, beautician courses, stenography, sewing, computer application, automobile repairing, electrical & electronics and IT application. The Boards have also established 36 centres for differently abled children to address their special needs like medical examination, counselling, physiotherapy and special education. All Cantonments Boards are also actively implementing the Swachh Bharat Abhiyan and a number of activities including those associated with solid and liquid waste management have been started.

7. "Samadhan" – an on-line public grievances redressal system has been implemented by all Cantonment Boards to make their administration more responsive to the public. "Suvidha" - a software to address the grievances of the staff has also been installed by the Boards.

8. In e-governance initiatives, Cantonment Boards have been continually automating their office processes. Now, e-tendering and e-procurement are implemented by all Cantonment Boards. Scanning and digitization of important records, particularly land records, and inventorisation of records has been completed in all Cantonment Boards. Raksha Bhoomi software for computerization of land records has been installed in all Cantonment Boards. Most Cantonment Boards have their own web-sites.

9. As a part of celebration of our Defence Estates Day in 2015, the 3rd Defence Estates Day lecture was delivered on 13th Dec 2015 by Shri Bibek Debroy, a Member of the Niti Aayog on "Effective Governance". Raksha Mantri's awards for excellence in the fields of (a) Centre for differently-abled children (b) Management of land records (c) Defence land survey (d) Functioning of Cantonment Board schools; and (e) Swachh Chhavni – Swasth Chhavni were also given to selected officers and staff on the occasion of Defence Estates Day, 2015.

10. Continued efforts are being made by all agencies involved in Cantonment Board administration to take cantonments forward in the developmental process. Cantonment Boards have made concerted efforts during the year to improve the quality of life of cantonment residents.
