SOME RECENT JUDGEMENTS OF THE SUPREME COURT OF INDIA

NO INDIVIDUAL HAS ANY RIGHT TO INVADE ON PHYSICAL FRAME OF ANOTHER IN ANY MANNER.

In Parhlad and Anr. Versus State of Haryana (CRIMINAL APPEAL NO. 983 OF 2015), decided on August 03, 2015, the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed as follows:

An offence of rape is basically an assault on the human rights of a victim. It is an attack on her individuality. It creates an incurable dent in her right and free will and personal sovereignty over the physical frame.

Everyone in any civilised society has to show respect for the other individual and no individual has any right to invade on physical frame of another in any manner.

Dignity of every citizen flows from the fundamental precepts of the equality clause engrafted under Articles 14 and right to life under Article 21 of the Constitution, for they are the "fon juris" of our Constitution.

A CRIME CREATES A DENT IN THE LAW AND ORDER SITUATION.

In Neeru Yadav Versus State of U.P. and Anr. (CRIMINAL APPEAL NO.1272 OF 2015 (@ SLP(Crl) No. 1596 OF 2015), decided on September 29, 2015, the Hon'ble Supreme Court observed as follows:

It is a well settled principle of law that while dealing with an application for grant of bail, it is the duty of the Court to take into consideration certain factors and they basically are, (i) the nature of accusation and the severity of punishment in cases of conviction and the nature of supporting evidence, (ii) reasonable apprehension of tampering with the witnesses for apprehension of threat to the complainant, and (iii) Prima facie satisfaction of the court in support of the charge.

It is an established fact that a crime though committed against an individual, in all cases it does not retain an individual character. It, on occasions and in certain offences, accentuates and causes harm to the society.

A crime, as is understood, creates a dent in the law and order situation. Justice in its conceptual eventuality and connotative expanse engulfs the magnanimity of the sun, the sternness of mountain, the complexity of creation, the simplicity and humility of a saint and the austerity of a Spartan, but it always remains wedded to rule of law absolutely unshaken, unterrified, unperturbed and loyal.
