Legal body to set up clubs in schools

OUR CORRESPONDENT

KAITHAL, SEPTEMBER 9

With a view to creating awareness amongst youth about their rights and to groom them as responsible citizens, the Haryana State Legal Services Authority (HSLSA) will establish Legal Literacy Clubs in all schools, colleges, medical and polytechnic institutes of the state. Also, lessons of law would be introduced in all schools and colleges from next academic session.

This was stated by Justice Satish Kumar Mittal, Judge, Punjab and Haryana High Court, and executive chairman of the HSLSA, while laying the foundation stone of an alternative dispute resolution (ADR) centre in Kaithal.

He said a tower of justice would be built in Gurgaon for 50 courts. In order to improve alternative dispute resolution mechanism, the HSLSA would set up district ADR centres in all judicial districts of the state.

Justice MS Sullar, Inspecting Judge of the Kaithal Session Division, DS Sheoran, District and Sessions Judge, Chander Shekhar, Deputy Commissioner, Kuldip Singh Yadav, Superintendent of Police, local judicial officers and advocates were present on this occasion.

Justice Mittal said legal clubs had already been opened by the HSLSA in 1,544 schools and 171 colleges of the state and steps were being taken to open such clubs in all private schools, colleges, technical, educational and medical institutions.

He said that 812 advocates were on the panel of the DLSAs and the Sub Divisional Legal Services Committees (SDLSCs) and there were 2,833 para legal volunteers (PLVs) out of which about 20 per cent were women in Haryana.

He said in order to reach senior citizens, missing children, single women, differently-abled persons, unorganised and migrant

LEGAL AID CLINIC OPENED

Reflecting the judiciary's thrust in the state on speedy justice and to make the legal system and justice available even to the uncounted ones in the polity, Justice SK Mittal of the Punjab and Haryana on Saturday inaugurated a legal aid clinic in a slum area in Faridabad. With the launch of the clinic, the total number of legal aid clinics in the district has increased to 30. The clinics function under the District Legal Service Authority. Each of the clinics is manned by an empanelled advocate and two paralegals. The philosophical underpinning behind the clinics was to empower the common man with knowledge of his legal rights and to enable him to seek justice even if plugged by penury and social isolation.
