4. Programme-wise Training Focus

4.1 B.Sc. Clinical Psychology (Honours)

You are trained as a first-level mental health professional.

Your focus is on:

- Mental health promotion and prevention
- Early identification and screening
- Psychoeducation and psychological first aid
- Supervised basic assessments
- Community and institutional exposure

Independent practice, psychotherapy, advanced assessment, and disability certification are not permitted at this level.

4.2 M.A. Clinical Psychology

You are trained as a professional clinical psychology practitioner under supervision.

Your focus is on:

- Psychopathology and diagnosis
- Psychological assessment and case formulation
- Evidence-based psychotherapies
- Clinical research and statistics
- Hospital and community-based interventions

This programme replaces the earlier M.Phil Clinical Psychology structure under NEP 2020.

4.3 Psy.D. Clinical Psychology

You are trained as an advanced practitioner and supervisor-level clinical psychologist.

Your focus is on:

- High-intensity clinical practice
- Advanced psychotherapeutic competence
- Sub-specialization through electives
- Leadership, advocacy, and ethics
- Empirical doctoral-level clinical research

This programme follows the practitioner-scholar model, with clinical competence as the core outcome.

5. Integrated Career Ladder in Clinical Psychology

Career Progression Pathway

Academic Qualification	RCI Status	Professional Role
B.Sc. Clinical Psychology (Hons.)	Clinical Assistant (Clinical Psychology)	Frontline mental health worker under supervision
M.A. Clinical Psychology	Eligible for Clinical Psychologist registration as per RCI norms	Independent clinical services as permitted
Psy.D. Clinical Psychology	Senior Clinical Psychologist	Advanced practice, supervision, leadership, training

This tiered structure ensures ethical practice, patient safety, and competency-based progression.

6. Curriculum Integration and Clinical Exposure

Common Training Principles Across All Programmes

- Supervised clinical work is mandatory
- Interdisciplinary exposure with Psychiatry, Neurology, Medicine, Pediatrics, and Rehabilitation
- Community-based learning and outreach
- Continuous internal assessment
- Emphasis on ethics, mental health laws, and professional conduct

Clinical Load Standards

- Adequate monthly patient turnover as prescribed by RCI
- Minimum 50 percent cases involving active psychological intervention at postgraduate and doctoral levels
- Structured supervision by RCI-registered Clinical Psychologists

7. Attendance, Leave, and Discipline

Parameter	Requirement
Minimum Attendance	80 percent
Casual Leave	Maximum 15 days per academic year
Training Continuity	Mandatory without breaks
Maximum Completion Period	As per RCI norms for each programme

Failure to meet attendance or clinical requirements leads to ineligibility for examinations.

8. Assessment and Evaluation System

- Theory examinations with descriptive answers
- Practical and clinical examinations
- Viva-voce with internal and external examiners
- Continuous internal assessment during postings
- Minimum 60 percent required to pass each component
- Distinction awarded at 75 percent aggregate where applicable

9. RCI Compliance Notes for Students

You should clearly understand the following:

1. All programmes are RCI regulated, not general academic psychology degrees.
2. Professional roles are legally defined and restricted at each level.
3. Independent clinical practice is permitted only after meeting RCI registration criteria.
4. Registration under the Central Rehabilitation Register (CRR) is mandatory for practice.
5. Misrepresentation of role or scope of practice is a legal and ethical violation.

10. Infrastructure and Faculty Assurance

The department maintains:

- Independent Department of Clinical Psychology
- RCI-registered faculty
- Psychological testing cubicles and therapy rooms
- ICT-enabled classrooms and departmental library
- Barrier-free and disability-friendly campus
- Active outpatient and community services

11. Hostel accommodations

- Hostel facilities at the Institute are reserved exclusively for persons with disabilities.
Accommodation in the hostel is subject to availability and is allotted strictly on a first-come, first-served basis.
- Hostel accommodation is not available for other students, and they are required to make their own residential arrangements.

12. All admitted students are expected to strictly comply with the rules and regulations of the Institute, the Rehabilitation Council of India (RCI), and the affiliated University, and to maintain discipline at all times within the Institute.

In the event of any disciplinary misconduct, the Institute reserves the right to take appropriate disciplinary action, including expulsion at any stage, in accordance with applicable rules and procedures.

13. Ragging is strictly prohibited in the Institute. All admitted students are required to mandatorily submit an anti-ragging undertaking and must refrain from any form of ragging or related misconduct.

Any violation of this policy will invite strict and appropriate disciplinary action by the Institute, in accordance with applicable rules and regulations.

11. Why Choose This Department

You benefit from:

- Clear professional identity at every stage
- Strong clinical exposure rather than theory-only training
- RCI-aligned career progression
- Ethical and legally sound practice preparation
- Pathway from undergraduate to doctoral-level specialization
