

Functions of ILDR Section

1. Organising and Conducting various Courses in Legislative Drafting to impart theoretical as well as practical training to the officers of the Central/State Governments/Union territory Administrations, Attached/Subordinate Offices and Central Public Sector Undertakings. Online capsule course on legislative drafting was organised for three days.
2. Work relating to Information Technology including Information and computer technology and system; Coordination with National Informatics Centre and maintaining Legislative Department's website.
3. All matter relating to ISO Certification of ILDR and periodical audits as provided under the Quality Manual System.
4. Providing practical training in legislative drafting for the nominees of the Bureau of parliamentary Studies.
5. Voluntary Internship Scheme for Law students who are studying in third Year of Three Year LLB Course and fourth or fifth year of Five year LLB course, for four to six weeks to motivate their interest in legislative drafting and secure knowledge about the nature and working of the Legislative Department.
