NIC Telangana: Bids a Warm Farewell to Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer, Private Secretary on Superannuation 31st October 2026 | 6th Floor Conference Hall, NIC, Hyderabad

A celebration of dedicated service and lasting professional relationships

The National Informatics Centre (NIC), Telangana, organised a superannuation function on 31st October 2026 at NIC, Hyderabad, Telangana, to honour Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer, Private Secretary, on the completion of his distinguished service. The gathering was an occasion to acknowledge his contribution to the organisation, reflect on the professional journey he had shared with colleagues, and convey warm wishes to him and his family as he begins a new chapter of life after retirement.

The programme brought together senior officers, colleagues and team members from NIC Telangana and District Centres.

The dignitaries were invited onto the dais, including (from Left to Right): Sri. G. Srikanth, Scientist-F & ASIO (State), Smt. Anuragamai, DDG and Head of the SARATHI Project, Transport Informatics Division, Sri. Guntuku Prasad, Scientist-G & SIO, NIC Telangana, Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer (Superannuating officer), Private Secretary & Smt. N. Ashwini Veer (Wife of Sh. Shravan Veer)

Remembering a professional journey

Sri Ravi Bandi, Scientist-C & Welfare Officer, NIC Telangana, organised the programme under the guidance of the State Informatics Officer (SIO), NIC Telangana. The event was coordinated to honour the dedicated service and contributions of Sh. Nilagiri Shravan Veer, Private Secretary, on his superannuation, and to convey the best wishes of the NIC Telangana fraternity for a happy, healthy and fulfilling retired life.

The programme opened with welcome remarks and an introductory briefing, setting a warm and respectful tone for the occasion. Shri H. S. Venkateswar, Private Secretary, read out the profile of Shri Nilagiri Shravan Veer, recalling the milestones of his career. His retirement memento recognised more than 36+ years of dedicated service, as highlighted in the commemorative display prepared for the occasion.

Shri H. S. Venkateswar, Private Secretary, read out the profile of Shri Nilagiri Shravan Veer

Shri Ravi Bandi, Scientist-C and Welfare Officer, NIC, Telangana

The formal felicitation reflected the esteem in which Shri Shravan Veer is held by the NIC Telangana fraternity. Sri Guntuku Prasad, SIO, Telangana presented him with a shawl, while Sri G. Srikanth, ASIO (State) presented a memento. Smt. Anuragamai, DDG, and Head of the SARATHI Project, Transport Informatics Division, presented a flower/plant pot to Smt. N. Ashwini Veer as a gesture of warmth and regard. These tokens of appreciation symbolised the organisation's gratitude for a career marked by commitment and valued working relationships.

A thoughtful transition into retirement

As part of the formal proceedings, Sri Guntuku Prasad, SIO, Telangana, handed over trolley bags and Pensioner Identity Cards to the superannuating officer. Sri John Peter, Section Officer, handed over the Pension Payment Order (PPO) documents, and a gift was presented on behalf of the Administration. The programme also included a segment for journey videos, if available, offering an opportunity to look back on memorable moments from his years of service.

Sri A. Maruthi Kumar, General Manager, NICSI, felicitated Sri N Shravan Veer. Brief addresses by the SIO and ASIOs followed, providing an opportunity to acknowledge his service and share good wishes for the years ahead. The presence and participation of officers from NIC Telangana and the District Centres added to the spirit of collegiality that defined the gathering.

Colleagues and family share their good wishes

The programme also made space for messages from near and dear ones and for NIC Telangana officers and District Centre colleagues to share their experiences. These moments highlighted the importance of the relationships built over years of working together—relationships sustained not only by official responsibilities, but also by mutual support, cooperation and shared memories.

Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer was then invited to share his message as he concluded his service. The programme continued with felicitations by team members, individual colleagues, groups and Heads of Departments. The sequence of good wishes reflected the collective appreciation of the NIC Telangana community for his contribution and the personal connections formed during his tenure.

An enduring contribution

Superannuation marks the close of an official chapter, but the experience, friendships and memories gathered over a long career remain part of an organisation's shared legacy. The function offered NIC Telangana an opportunity to express its sincere appreciation to Sri N Shravan Veer and to recognise the support of his family throughout his professional journey.

As Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer moves into retirement, NIC Telangana extends its heartfelt gratitude for his years of dedicated service and wishes him and Smt. N. Ashwini Veer good health, happiness, peace and fulfilment in the years ahead. May this new phase bring time for family, personal interests and many rewarding experiences. His contribution and the memories shared with colleagues will be remembered with respect and affection.

NIC Telangana conveys its best wishes to Sri Nilagiri Shravan Veer for a happy and fulfilling retirement.

****