No scientific evidences found linking COVID19 vaccination with infertility in men & women

NEGVAC has recommended COVID19 vaccination for all lactating women

The Union Ministry of Health and Family Welfare (MoHFW) has clarified in the FAQs posted on the website (<https://www.mohfw.gov.in/pdf/FAQsforHCWs&FLWs.pdf>) that none of the available vaccines affects fertility, as all vaccines and their constituents are tested first on animals and later in humans to assess if they have any such side effects.
