	5.2	Measures of reliability	Not Applicable

6.1	Timeliness	Survey is annually conducted, once the admission process in HEIs are over.
7. Cohere	7. Coherence and Comparability
7.1	Comparability – over time	AISHE data are comparable over time broadly. But, for parameters GER and GPI, till 2019-20, GER and GPI were calculated based on 2001 census projections, wherein since 2020-21, thay are being calculated on the basis of population projections from 2011 Census. Hence, Time series for GER and GPI since AISHE 2011 is revised for comparability and is updated in excel sheets at https://aishe.gov.in/aishe-final-report section
7.2	Coherence	Aligned with the guidelines of an initial committee of experts, and other guildelines and updates in Education Sector by MoE.
8. Data P	rocessing
8.1	Source data type	Data is collected from Higher Education Institutions.
8.2	Frequency of data collection	Annual
8.3	Mode and method of data collection method	Data collected through AISHE web portal online . Data is filled up by Institution Nodal officers.
8.4	Data validation	Data validation involves checking current data against past data for errors and also ensuring that related fields in the dataset are consistent. If any inconsistency found, institutions are asked to correct the same during scrutiny period.
8.5	Data compilation	Since data may not be submitted by all HEIs in the AISHE data base (usually 9-10 % nonresponse is observed), Imputation is done for nonresponse, specifically in colleges (Affiliated & constitutent colleges of Central/State Public Universities) for UG and PG level courses. The methodology for the same is available in AISHE reports.
8.6	Data identifier(s)	Data can be identified based on unique AISHE code of the institute
