6.	Director, Social and Tribal Welfare Department	Member Secretary

Roles of State Committee under the Scheme of Grant in Aid for VO/NGOs:

1. Meetings of the State Committee shall be held once or at the most twice in each financial year, preferably before the month of April. No recommendation may be made after the month of April in order to streamline the funding pattern.
2. State Committees shall be responsible to examine the project proposals of VO/NGOs in accordance with the procedure/ guidelines as laid down by the Ministry from time to time and on the basis of inspection reports and performance reports furnished by the field functionaries.
3. While examining the proposals, the State Committee shall take care of the following aspects:
 - i. The project recommended are well run and rendering quality services in service deficient areas;

As per order

- ii. Justification is given for continuation of on-going projects after assessing the impact with supporting data;
 - iii. Likely period for which the project will continue or require funding;
 - iv. Educational projects are normally not recommended in the tribal areas where literacy levels are higher than the national average of general population. Similarly, projects like 10 or more bedded hospitals are not recommended for areas having good hospitals;
 - v. The projects are prioritized for service deficient tribal areas;
 - vi. Residential schools for girls must have female service staff, wardens and adequate security provisions;
 - vii. Establishment of a linkage with Panchayati Raj Institutions, wherever possible for monitoring etc.
 - viii. Every year, in view of the budgetary constraints, efforts may be made to phase out such projects which are not well run; and also, on-going projects which have attained the level of self-sufficiency and are in a position to run their projects from their own resources, may be phased out
 - ix. Preference be given to such new projects which are already running and have established a record of rendering quality services in service deficient areas;
 - x. For new projects, a minimum benchmark data must be available or collected at the start of the project to objectively assess the impact.
- 4) State Committees are also expected to satisfy themselves about the necessity of funding the project, keeping in view its performance by making inspection visits as per the requirement.
