Your active involvement and engagement were instrumental in making the event a success.

I would like to particularly acknowledge the experiences and innovative ideas shared during the various sessions of the Conference. The insights provided by colleagues in the judiciary across India on topics such as improving court infrastructure, ensuring inclusivity in courtrooms and enhancing the well-being of judicial officers were appreciated. These contributions have enriched the discourse and have provided practical and creative approaches for improving our justice delivery system.

On a personal note, I must express how much of a learning experience this event was for me. Engaging with all of you, listening to your challenges, and understanding your perspectives has been enlightening. It has reinforced my belief in the crucial role each of the judges plays in the justice delivery process, and the immense responsibility that rests upon your shoulders.
