Sir/Madam,

Sub: SUVAS – Supreme Court Vidhik Anuvaad Software – High Court has proposed to launch Digital Law Reports – High Court invites application for preparation of Head-notes for the Judgments – Requested to host the Notification in the District Court Website – Regarding.

*****

I am directed to state that, Madras High Court has proposed to launch the Digital Law Reports in High Court's Website for publishing the Madras High Court Judgments found in Neutral Citation System and other Judgments with Head-Notes in English and Tamil version. This would facilitate the young lawyers, who are unaffordable of high priced law journals, law students, law Professors and common citizens to acquaint themselves with the law. Further, the litigants will also be in a position to understand the judgments.

LF13/24 I am also to state that, the launching of Digital Law Reports would also reduce the heavy expenditure incurred by the High Court towards supply of various Journals to the High Court as well as to District Judiciary and everybody can view the Digital Law Report from any part of the world.

Therefore, the Madras High Court invites applications from Lawyers, retired Judicial Officers, retired and serving Assistant Public Prosecutors as well as Law Professors for preparation of Head-notes for the Judgments. Further, the willing candidates may fill up the application available in the Website and send it through email (e-mail ID: mhcsuvas@gmail.com) on or before 22.03.2024.

In this regard, as directed, I am to request your goodselves to kindly host the Madras High Court's Notification in your District Court's Website and Notice Board in all Courts inviting application from all concerned and sensitizing the Citizens towards launching of the Digital Law Reports.

Yours faithfully,

S
