

HERBAL AND MEDICINAL GARDEN

It is an initiative resulting from the most challenging time the world has witnessed during pandemic of COVID 19 viruses and the toll it has taken of millions across the Globe. Resorting to our Ancient alternative ways of prevention and cure have yielded excellent results and that had vindicated the requirements of not only growing more such trees but also of creating awareness amongst the young people. Visits of school children, college students, interns and litigants is a regular feature in this premise.

India has the largest number of youth in the world whose average age is 28 years and this creation would not only spread awareness amongst the younger people but would also prove to be an asset for the generations to come. It is also an indication that the system is concerned about the holistic health of litigants and citizens.
