YOUTH PARLIAMENT - PARLIAMENT FOR LEARNING

A Youth parliament is necessary for young generation and An overview of the youth parliament event including its objectives, participants and topics discussed.

Youth parliament session may include key points raised, arguments made and decisions reached. During the Youth Parliament session, we have discussed at addressing specific issues or challenges facing young people or society as a whole.

Next steps:

Suggestions for follow-up actions or initiatives that can be taken based on the outcomes of the youth parliament, such as advocacy campaigns, policy proposals, or further research.

Participating in a youth parliament can be highly beneficial for students in several ways:

1. CIVIC ENGAGEMENT-

Youth parliament provide students with a platform to engage in civic activities, learn about the political process and understand how government functions.

2. DEBATE SKILLS -

Youth parliament offer students the opportunity to practice public speaking, debate and negotiation skills.

3. LEADERSHIP DEVELOPMENT -

Parliament provides students with opportunities to take on leadership roles, collaborate with their peers, and work towards common goals. This can help students develop leadership skills, team work and the ability to motivate and inspire others.

We have discussed in youth parliament a specific issue related to female embryos. While It's not entirely clear what specific problem you are referring to, we can provide some general information and potential solutions related to issues that may arise with female embryos

1. SEX SELECTION: In some cultures, or societies, there may be a preference for male offspring over female offspring, leading to sex-selective practices such as abortion of female fetuses or selective implantation of male embryos during in vitro fertilization (IVF). This can lead to gender imbalance and social issues.

2. GENETIC DISORDERS: Female embryos, like male embryos, can be affected by genetic disorders or chromosomal abnormalities.

3. ACCESS TO REPRODUCTIVE HEALTHCARE: In some regions, women may face barriers to accessing reproductive healthcare services, including infertility treatments.

4. SUPPORT FOR WOMEN: Providing support for women's reproductive health and rights, including access to family planning services, education and healthcare can help empower women to make informed decisions about their reproductive choices and care.

In our youth parliament we discussed about few potential issues related to female embryos and some broad solutions.

Finally, we can say that a youth parliament report typically refers to a document that summarizes the discussions, debates and recommendations made during a youth parliament session or event.

Youth parliament are platforms where young people come together to discuss important issues, propose solutions and advocate for change.

Thank you.
