From the Principal's Desk

It gives me immense pleasure and a profound sense of privilege to present the First Quarter CMP Newsletter for the Academic Session 2026-27 of PM SHRI Kendriya Vidyalaya No. 2, Itanagar.

A school newsletter is not merely a compilation of events and activities; it is a reflection of the vibrant spirit of the Vidyalaya and a testimony to the learning, creativity and accomplishments of its students.

The present issue beautifully captures the diverse academic and co-curricular experiences of our young learners and provides a glimpse into the joyful and enriching learning environment nurtured in the Primary Section.

The formative years of a child's education lay the foundation for lifelong learning. At this crucial stage, education must go beyond textbooks and classrooms to foster curiosity, imagination, confidence, creativity and essential values. The wide range of activities undertaken during the first quarter reflects our endeavour to provide holistic, experiential and joyful learning opportunities, enabling every child to discover and develop his or her innate potential.

I firmly believe that every child is endowed with unique abilities and talents. It is the collective responsibility of the school and the teachers to recognise these strengths, provide appropriate opportunities and nurture them with patience, care and encouragement. I am pleased to acknowledge the dedicated efforts of our primary teachers, who have worked with commitment and enthusiasm to make learning meaningful, engaging and child-centred.

I extend my appreciation to the entire Primary Section for its sincere efforts towards realising the objectives of primary education and for creating an environment where children are encouraged to learn with joy, think creatively, participate confidently and grow holistically. I also acknowledge the valuable support of parents, whose partnership with the school strengthens our endeavour to provide the best possible learning experiences to our students.

I am confident that the pages of this newsletter will inspire our young learners to continue exploring, creating and striving for excellence. May the enthusiasm and achievements reflected herein serve as a source of encouragement for the entire Vidyalaya community.

I convey my heartiest congratulations and best wishes to the students and teachers for their commendable efforts and wish them continued success in all their future endeavours.
