The school successfully organized the Tarunotsav program for the students of Class X who are aspiring to join Class XI and are in the process of selecting their subject streams for further studies and future careers. The program aimed to guide students in making decisions about their academic and professional paths.

During the session, students were provided with detailed insights into various streams, including Science, Commerce, and Humanities, along with career opportunities associated with each. Experienced faculty members conducted interactive sessions, clarified doubts, and offered personalized guidance to students based on their interests and aptitude.

The program was conducted efficiently and saw active participation from about 30 students, who expressed that the event was highly beneficial in helping them understand the scope and prospects of different subject combinations. The initiative not only enhanced students' awareness but also motivated them to set clear academic goals.
