GUIDANCE AND COUNSELLING

Guidance and counselling is an important educational tool in shaping the orientation in a child. The school children are undergoing some of the most difficult periods of life. The transition from childhood to adulthood is a difficult one, if not taken proper care. Apart from the influence of the family, the other major influence on the young person's life is the school and the school environment. Counselling and guidance can provide a good basis for a broader education for life. Keeping this in mind, such sessions are conducted in Vidyalaya from time to time addressing issue like Career opportunities after schools for Classes XI-XII, Gender Sensitization
